Ceremonial Spaces

Gathering Space Offerings

This beautiful, modern room is a welcoming space for friends and family to gather for ceremonies and small services. Floor-to-ceiling windows in shades of green and yellow and a large tapestry of the forest invite nature into this urban sanctuary. The room has a lectern for speakers and a screen for slideshows. At the center of the room is a white, hexagonal threshold vessel—a passageway to the Greenhouse, where human composting occurs.

What to Expect

Our Services Specialists are licensed funeral directors who help with planning the event, including organizing speakers, selecting music and readings, and weaving in cultural or religious traditions if desired. Our Services Specialists will ensure the event runs smoothly and are available to lead the ceremony or service.

In the Gathering Space, your person will be on a dark green bed—the cradle—and draped in natural fabric. The cradle holding your person will be placed into the threshold vessel at the end of your ceremony or service. You and your guests have the option to add plant materials and help move the cradle into the threshold vessel. You can bring in your own organic materials to add to the cradle (as demonstrated below) like your person's favorite flowers.

The vessel is then closed. Much like the moment when a body is interred into the earth during a burial, this represents a moment of transition.
